streamline workflows.

Technology is Changing Fast

Managing IT in court systems has never been easy. Technology is developing at a rapid pace. Court systems are challenged to control costs while keeping sensitive data safe and secure. Brother understands. We offer cost-effective solutions to the printing and scanning functions common in court systems. As a technology partner, we can work with you to create solutions to the workflow challenges throughout your court system to help ensure the environment is effective, efficient and responsive to all parties that rely on court information.

Today's Court System Challenges

Shift to Digital

Brother offers the products, tools and applications to help court systems manage and store documents digitally, while also providing a low total cost of ownership. Easily convert and capture paper documents into electronic files for seamless and secure access to information. Documents can be scanned within your case management system, while capture facilitates the archiving and sharing of information – keeping it secure and organized, enabling collaboration, and helping reduce errors.

Upholding Security

Court systems, both state and federal, are guardians of sensitive information for individuals and organizations, making them a ripe target for cyberattacks. We can help your court system protect personally identifiable data and other confidential information from internal and external security threats with triple layer “in the box” security. Brother can help protect your network, keep your printing and scanning devices secure, and protect documents in transit to and from print devices.

Reliable Infrastructure

The success of nearly every court function is dependent on flexible and reliable information-management technology. From the back office to the courtroom, staff rely on printing and scanning technology for the dissemination of court cases, summonses, witness statements and more. Having reliable technology with virtually little to no downtime is crucial to ensuring the highly demanding courthouse environment is streamlined, efficient and meets the needs of the public and other government entities.
